-----X

TO THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

1. The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc., ("Hartford") incorrectly sued herein as The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc. a/k/a The Hartford Insurance Group, is a defendant in the civil action commenced by Plaintiff Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc. in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Nassau, Index No. 604999/2017. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1441 and 1446, Hartford hereby removes this action to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York, which is the judicial district in which this action is pending.

2. Removal is proper because this Court would have had original jurisdiction of this action based on diversity of citizenship, 28 U.S.C. § 1332, had this action been brought originally in federal court. Furthermore, removal of the action is not barred under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b), because no party properly joined as a defendant is a citizen of the State of New York, where this action is pending.

3. Original jurisdiction based on diversity of citizenship is proper in this case because:

a. Plaintiff alleges that it is a New York corporation with its principal place of business in Kings County, New York.

b. Defendant Hartford is, and has been since this action was commenced, a citizen of Delaware and Connecticut, in that it is incorporated in Delaware, and has its principal place of business in Connecticut.

c. The amount in controversy exceeds $75,000 exclusive of interest and costs, in that Plaintiff alleges that it is entitled to “[u]p to $1[,000,000] for loss of Business Income, Extra Expense, Civil Authority, and Extended Business Income losses[,]” under the insurance policy issued to Plaintiff.

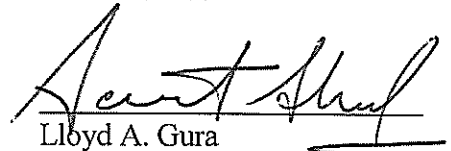

4. This Notice of Removal is timely pursuant to Rule 6 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure because the summons and complaint were served on Hartford on June 2, 2017. This Notice of Removal was filed within 30 days of receipt of that pleading and within one year of the date on which the action was commenced.

5. To date, the following process and pleadings have been filed in state court: the Summons and Complaint, and the affidavits of service. The Summons and Complaint is annexed hereto as Exhibit 1; and the affidavits of service are annexed hereto as Exhibit 2.

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK INDEX NO.

COUNTY OF NASSAU

Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc.

Plaintiff,

COMPLAINT

-against-

The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc. a/k/a
The Hartford Insurance Group

Defendants

Plaintiff Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc., as and for its complaint against defendant The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc. a/k/a The Hartford Insurance Group, alleges, upon information and belief, as follows:

THE PARTIES

1. Plaintiff Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc. is a New York corporation formed in 1990. Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc. (hereinafter "Gardner's") has principal offices and operates as a retail store at 371 Broadway, Brooklyn, NY 11211. Gardner's primary business is selling retail prescription drugs.
2. The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc. a/k/a The Hartford Insurance Group (hereinafter "Hartford") is a commercial insurance carrier with headquarters at One Hartford Plaza, Hartford, CT 06155 and regional offices at 277 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10172.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

3. This breach of contract and declaratory relief action arises out of Hartford's refusal to provide coverage under an insurance policy.
4. Gardner's is the named insured under Hartford's policy number 12 SBA UL3824 (hereinafter "the Policy") which specifically provides coverage for, among other things, "computer fraud", "identity theft" and "forgery".
5. Gardner's is a victim of forgery, identity theft, and computer fraud by Jorge Vergara, Said Abdelkader, and Broadway RX.
6. Hartford paid $25,000.00 to Gardner's for losses caused by employee theft due under the Policy.
7. Hartford refuses to pay the additional claims submitted for, inter alia, stolen computer data, forgery, and identity theft ("the Claims") due under the Policy.
8. Gardner's submitted the Claims to Hartford.
9. The Policy is designed to protect against fraud and theft of computer data.
10. Despite the fact that Gardner's has paid its premiums, Hartford refuses to pay Gardner's Claims.
11. Gardner's seeks a declaration that there is coverage for Gardner's Claims under the Policy and damages for breach of contract due to Hartford's unreasonable failure to honor its obligation under the Policy to cover the Claims.

JURISDICTION

12. This court has jurisdiction over this action pursuant to CPLR §§ 301 and 302. A proceeding directed related to this action was filed in this Court is pending before Justice John Galasso bearing index number 609576/2016.

FACTUAL ALLEGATION

Gardner's is a Victim or Theft

13. While Vergara was working for Gardner's, he looted over $1,000,000.00 dollars from Gardner's by opening sham bank accounts at Flushing Bank and TD Bank. The phony bank accounts were opened by forgery and identity theft. This massive criminal scheme bankrolled Broadway RX.
14. Gardner's lawsuit against Jorge Vergara, Said Abdelkader, and Broadway RX, et al is active in this Court under index number 609576/2016 and pending decision before Justice John Galasso in Nassau County Supreme Court.
15. Hartford reviewed the pleadings and evidence in Gardner's case filed under index number 609576/2016.
16. In addition to conversion by way of sham bank account looting, the lawsuit filed against Said Abelkader, Jorge Vergara, and Broadway RX also alleges that Broadway RX fraudulently linked itself with Gardner's to steal prescriptions. The linking scheme allows Broadway RX to connect with Gardner's as a chain pharmacy to re-fill existing prescriptions so Gardner's prescription income is paid to Broadway RX.
17. That is not disputed by Broadway RX and Vergara.
18. This linking scheme occurred for approximately twenty months.
19. The prescriptions and customer information is data that belongs to Gardner's.
20. The data theft has not occurred for new customers, or customer data that was entered post Vergara employment. Hartford is aware of that.
21. Given that fact, logic dictates that if Vergara worked at Gardner's for so long and was the face of the business, Gardner's data was copied and / or exported to Broadway RX. So Broadway RX would have the customer addresses, their prescription information, doctor identification information, etc.

22. Afterwards, Broadway RX somehow (fraudulently) established itself as a chain to Gardner's to complete the theft.
23. It is unlikely that Broadway RX is intercepting the prescriptions through pure cyber means if Gardner's new prescriptions are not touched by Broadway RX.
24. Broadway RX accessed Gardner's customer data which allowed Broadway RX to loot Gardner's prescription business.
25. Gardner's data was lost to Broadway RX, by transporting Gardner's customer information on disk, email, physical wires from Gardner's to his new pharmacy Broadway RX, remote access, program virus, or such other fraudulent means accessing Gardner's network, unauthorized use account, or a combination of the foregoing.
26. Given the close proximity of Gardner's and Broadway RX, it is possible that the theft of prescription business is the result of physical wires connecting the two pharmacies.
27. Another possibility is that the theft could be facilitated by a virus or program base on Gardner's network, to link the pharmacies as "chain pharmacies".
28. In either scenario, a theft has occurred of Gardner's data.
29. While the exact manner of the theft is unknown at this time, it is fact that Broadway RX is acting to steal Gardner's prescription data so that income is diverted to Broadway RX's account instead of Gardner's.
30. That was witnessed by Charles Robleson, Hartford's investigator.
31. The acts of Broadway RX constitutes theft of the Plaintiff's computer software and data.
32. The Policy owned by Gardner's covers this type of loss.

The Hartford Investigation

33. Hartford was notified of the computer fraud and sent investigator Charles Robleson to the insured premises to investigate.
34. Charles Robleson visited Gardner's on January 5th, 2017 and took a statement from Gloria Adorno.
35. Coincidentally, on the 5th of January Charles Robleson personally witnessed the theft committed in real-time that resulted in Broadway RX re-filling a customer prescription in Gardner's database.
36. Due to the complexity of this computer fraud, Hartford sent this claim to an outside forensics team Envista Forensics.
37. Envista Forensics conducted several phone interviews with Gloria Adorno.
38. In our last call, Envista was in the process of scheduling a visit to Gardner's for inspection of Gardner's computers.
39. That visit never happened because Hartford was not willing to pay the fees (approximately $15,000.00) to Envista Forensics.
40. My conversation with James Richard of Hartford on March 22nd, 2017 stated he would not proceed with the forensics onsite testing.
41. Later that day on the 22nd, Gardner's offered to accommodate Hartford by hiring independent IT investigation to determine the cause of the computer theft. James Richard of Hartford declined to answer that email.
42. Hartford finally hired a different forensics IT technician for an onsite inspection.
43. Jon Pullin of Loss Solutions Group visited Gardner's on April 7th, 2017.
44. Jon Pullin wrote a report of his findings attached as Exhibit A.

45. In sum, Jon Pullin was unable to determine the exact of cause of loss. Mr. Pullin concluded that the method of theft is unknown and a more thorough forensic investigation of Gardner's network and computer system is required to determine the exact cause of the theft. Exhibit A.
46. Hartford has not scheduled additional forensics testing.
47. Hartford concluded they "cannot determine that a theft of data as defined by the policy has occurred due to a covered cause of loss. If there is no covered event then business interruption does not trigger under the Policy....Unfortunately, your policy will provide coverage from lost data or software only if it was a result of direct physical loss...Since no covered loss can be determined by either theft, virus, or computer fraud, coverage will not trigger..." Exhibit A.
48. That conclusion is obviously erroneous because Gardner's is a victim of theft.
49. Hartford cannot counteract that fact.
50. Further, Hartford concludes that "we cannot determine that the alleged theft of data actually belonged to our insured at the time of the loss as it was somehow diverted before entering our insured's computer system". Exhibit A.
51. That is also obviously false.
52. If that customer data and their prescriptions do not "belong" Gardner's, whom does the prescription data belong to?
53. The customer prescriptions do belong to the insured. Gardner's has operated as a pharmacy storefront for over thirty years. The customer relationships and ongoing prescription business Gardner's property from years of operating as a pharmacy.

The Stolen Computer Data is the Plaintiff's Property

54. The re-fill prescriptions in Gardner's computers belong to Gardner's. The customer base is property of Gardner's. The income from that customer base is property of Gardner's. While the original prescription is being paid, it is property of Gardner's. At the moment a prescription is scheduled to be re-filled that is also property of Gardner's.

55. Vergara and Abdelkader organized a brazen criminal scheme to loot Gardner's of over $1,000,000.00 of operating income with phony bank accounts. That money bankrolled Broadway RX.

56. To further that criminal scheme, Broadway RX is accessing and stealing Gardner's patient list data stored within Gardner's computers so prescription income is sent Broadway RX.

57. Hartford surely cannot say that data belongs to a neighboring pharmacy that was opened on the yield of a criminal scheme.

58. Like the phony bank accounts, the entire point of Broadway RX, Abdelkader, and Vergara's fraud is to loot Gardner's property.

59. Hartford's statement that the data did not "belong" to the insured defies logic.

60. Not only is Hartford's conclusion illogical, it demonstrates a bad faith, gross disregard for Gardner's horrific circumstance.

61. Hartford made no further attempt determine the cause of this theft as recommended in the report of Loss Solutions Group. Hartford unreasonably refused to further probe the cause of the computer theft.

62. Hartford reviewed the motions and exhibits in its lawsuit filed against Broadway RX.

63. Given their knowledge that their insured is a victim of massive criminal acts, they have made a bad faith decision to breach the Policy.

Hartford's Denial of Computer Fraud Coverage

64. Under the Computers & Media portion of the Policy, Hartford is required to pay for direct physical loss of computer data. Direct physical loss includes theft, defined under the Policy as the "act of stealing or attempt to steal."

3. Extended Causes of Loss

Direct physical loss or physical damage to "computer equipment", "data" or "software" is extended to include the following:

- d. Theft of "computer equipment" away from the "scheduled premises". Theft means an act of stealing or an attempt to steal. Theft includes loss of property from a known place when it is likely that the property has been stolen.

65. Gardner's is a victim of theft of over $1,000,000.00 from Gardner's operating income.

66. Continuing the criminal scheme, Gardner's customer data was (and is) being stolen by Broadway RX.

67. Hartford cannot dispute that.

68. Logic dictates that Broadway RX (through Vergara and Abdelkader) likely copied the data by disk or email to the Broadway RX network to see and complete the re-fill looting scheme.

69. Before, during, and after the re-fill theft occurs, Broadway RX, through its owners Vergara and Abdelkader, are taking action to steal from Gardner's so the payments are deposited into Broadway RX's account instead of Gardner's.

70. If this Court determines that a theft occurred of the Plaintiff's data, than Hartford is required to pay for Additional Coverages including Business Income, Extra Expense, Civil Authority, and Extended Business Income losses.

71. That the actions of Broadway RX and Vergara caused (and continues to cause) disruption in the computer operations of Gardner's.

Hartford's Denial of Forgery

72. Hartford failed to pay Gardner's forgery claim.

73. The Policy reads:

f. Forgery

(1) We will pay for loss resulting directly from forgery or alteration of any check, draft, promissory note, or similar written promises, orders or directions to pay a sum certain in "money" that you or your at a bank or savings institution, within your living quarters or the living quarters of your partners or any employee having use and custody of the property, at the "scheduled premises", or in transit between any of these places, resulting directly from:

- (a) "Theft";
- (b) Disappearance; or
- (c) Destruction.

74. The checks annexed as Exhibit B were blatantly forged by Vergara as a result of his theft.

75. The checks were emailed to Hartford.

76. Despite repeated attempts to claim coverage of $25k for the forged checks, Hartford has ignored this claim.

77. Hartford's refusal to address this claim is further proof of its bad-faith and gross disregard of the Plaintiff's rights under the Policy.

Hartford's Denial of Identity Theft Coverage

78. Gardner's is covered for identity theft.

79. Hartford was provided copies of the pleadings in this lawsuit which include the application that stole Gardner's identity to open phony bank accounts at Flushing and TD Bank.

80. Despite repeated attempts to claim coverage for identity theft, Hartford has ignored this claim.

81. Those allegations were not denied by Vergara.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(breach of contract)

82. Plaintiff repeats, reiterates, and re-alleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs "1" through "81" with the same force and effect.

83. The Policy is a valid and enforceable contract.

84. Gardner's paid all premiums, provided prompt notice of the claims, and otherwise performed all obligations under the Policy.

85. Other than the $25,000.00 employee theft claim, Hartford has not paid any amounts to Gardner's. By failing to provide coverage for the Claims, Hartford has breached the terms of the Policy.

86. Gardner's is entitled to, inter alia, the following coverages under the Policy:

- Up to $1MM for loss of Business Income, Extra Expense, Civil Authority, and Extended Business Income losses.
- Identity theft
- Forgery Exhibit B.
- Legal fees
- Claim Expenses
- Coverage to rectify / replace the losses sustained due to the Computer Fraud and actual loss of business income sustained due to the period of restoration

87. As a direct and proximate result of Hartford's breach of the Policy, Gardner's has suffered damages in an amount to be determined at trial, plus consequential damages, attorneys' fees, and pre-judgment interest to the extent permitted by law.

88. Gardner's reserves its right to amend the coverages due under the Policy.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Declaratory relief)

89. Plaintiff repeats, reiterates, and re-alleges each and every allegation contained in paragraphs "1" through "88" with the same force and effect.

90. Pursuant to the Policy, Hartford is required to pay the following:

- Up to $1,000,000.00 for loss of Business Income, Extra Expense, Civil Authority, and Extended Business Income losses which resulted in theft of "data" and "software":
- Costs to cover costs to research, replace or restore "data" or "software"
- identity theft
- $25,000.00 for the forged checks written by Jorge Vergara from the phony Flushing Bank account after his termination from Gardner's Pharmacy

- blanked coverage for direct physical loss of or physical damage to Gardner's computers
- Costs to recover lost records and restore data
- Attorneys' fees
- Consequential damages

91. Gardner's is entitled to consequential damages.

92. An insured may recover foreseeable consequential damages, beyond the limits of the policy, where the insurer breaches its duty to investigate and settle claims in good faith. Bi-Economy Mkt., Inc. v Harleysville Ins. Co. of N.Y; STV Group v American Cont. Props., 234 AD2d 50 [1996]).

93. Even after the recommendation of Loss Solutions Group, Hartford has not thoroughly investigated this issue to make a final determination.

94. The Report does not conclude, with certainty, the cause of the theft. Without fully knowing the cause of theft of computer data, Hartford cannot make a fair evaluation to determine coverage.

95. The first forensics team Envista was not sent to the premises to inspect the computer equipment because the forensics fee of $15,000.00 was "too high".

96. Jon Pullin's report concludes that a more thorough analysis should be conducted to determine the exact manner of theft which Hartford has not done.

97. It is the obligation of the insurer to thoroughly investigate the facts and circumstances of a claim.

98. Hartford fails to follow through on the recommendation of Global Loss Solutions to further investigate. Thus, Gardner's is entitled to consequential damages.

99. Hartford's argument that a theft is 'alleged' is absurd. Hartford reviewed the pleadings and evidence in Gardner's case filed against Broadway RX bearing index number 609576/2016. It is even more absurd that Hartford claims the data stolen does not "belong" to the insured. Such a statement defies logic.
100. Hartford's poor conduct and mischaracterization of the facts shows its indifference to the insured.
101. Hartford's unwillingness to investigate for its insured continues on its pattern of disregard for the insured's interest. Gardner's is entitled to consequential damages because Hartford breached its duty to investigate. Hartford has not acted in good faith to thoroughly test the insured's hardware to determine the exact source of the theft.
102. Hartford has not acted in good faith by ignoring the identity theft and forgery Claims.
103. The checks annexed as Exhibit B is forgery by a non-employee. The checks are utterly ignored by Hartford and further demonstrates Hartford's conscious or knowing indifference to the insured's interests. Bennion v Allstate Ins. Co., 284 AD2d 924 [2001]).
104. Thus, Gardner's is entitled to special damages.
105. Gardner's reserves its right to amend and add to the relief sought under the second cause of action.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for relief as follows:

- (a) on the First Cause of Action, based on Hartford's breach of the Policy, for damages in an amount to be determined at trial, plus consequential damages, attorneys' fees, and pre-judgment interest to the extent permitted by law;

- (b) On the Second Cause of Action, declaring the Claims as coverable under the Policy and directing Hartford to pay all coverable losses as provided in the Policy;
- (c) Additionally, Plaintiff requests such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper

RE: Insured: Gardners Pharmacy, Inc.
Claim Number: CP0017164803
LSG Matter Number: 427800.5355-00
Date of Loss: November 28, 2016

Dear Ms. Barbee,

Thank you for choosing Loss Solutions Group as your equipment loss consultant. This report serves to provide an analysis of the above-referenced claim.

Assignment:

Loss Solutions Group was contacted by Mr. Aaron Swartz of The Hartford. The scope of this assignment was to address of scope of damage and cause of loss associated with the reported interception of electronic medical prescriptions. Since receipt of this matter, claim handling has been assumed by Ms. Tonya Barbee, also of The Hartford.

Findings and Analysis:

Loss Solutions Contacted the insured, Gardner's Pharmacy, Inc., to discuss the matter and spoke with Attorney John Manfredi (Manfredi Law Group, 347-614-7006) and Ms. Gloria Adorno (Gardner's Pharmacy, 516-506-9358). We reviewed the scope of our assignment with Attorney Manfredi, as well as known details regarding the reported cause of loss and circumstances surrounding such. Ms. Adorno provided an overview of the pharmacy's daily operations and noted reported issues attributed to the loss.

Loss Solutions Group conducted an inspection at the loss location (371 Broadway, Brooklyn, New York 11211) on April 7, 2017. Mr. Jon Pullin, technical consultant for Loss Solutions Group and this undersigned, met Attorney Manfredi and Ms. Adorno at the loss location to conduct an inspection of the insured's computer systems and network. Such is described in our Cause of Loss statement below.

Scope of Damage

Attorney Manfredi and Ms. Adorno stated that a former long-term employee of Gardner's Pharmacy opened a competing pharmacy near the insured's place of business and had reportedly been intercepting electronic prescriptions intended for Gardner's Pharmacy. Details regarding such are presented below.

Reported Electronic Prescription Interceptions

The insured's computer systems receive electronic prescriptions from generating doctor offices. The offices utilize a code-base system that identifies the patient's preferred pharmacy. The generating doctor's office then sends a prescription to InterRX, a cloud-based third party vendor that maintains a database of pharmacy identification codes. InterRX identifies the correct pharmacy and then routes the prescription. In this case, Gardner's Pharmacy receives the electronic prescription to a computer, which then prints such to a printer.

Attorney Manfredi and Ms. Adorno both stated that another pharmacy was reportedly intercepting electronic prescriptions that were sent from various doctor offices to Gardner's Pharmacy. Ms. Adorno stated that in some instances the electronic prescriptions were not received by Gardner's Pharmacy, while in other instances the competing pharmacy reported also received the prescriptions and filled them first, followed by contacting the patient to notify them their prescriptions had been filled at that location rather than the intended pharmacy.

Software Vendor Contact: InterRX Software Support

Loss Solutions Group contacted InterRX Software Support (973-256-7633) and spoke with Ms. "Ruth." Ms. "Ruth" was able to access Gardner's Pharmacy's database entry and noted that no additional points of contact or computer systems were linked to the insured's InterRX identification code number. Ms. "Ruth" also verified that Gardner's Pharmacy was not identified as a "chain" or a collection of pharmacies under one (1) central corporation.

We described the insured's reported ongoing loss (interception of electronic scripts by an unauthorized party) and queried Ms. "Ruth" as to possible methods by which such could be accomplished. Ms. "Ruth" stated that there were no software or database settings which would allow electronic scripts sent by a doctor's office to be sent to another pharmacy using Gardner's Pharmacy's identification code number, so the most likely method would be interception once the electronic script was received by the insured via a network or computer vulnerability.

Site Inspection Observations

This undersigned conducted an inspection at the loss location and was provided with access to the insured's place of business and computer/networking equipment. The insured's network, relevant to this claim, consists of two (2) desktop computers, one (1) printer, a wireless access point (WAP) set for guest access, an internal wireless network, and a combination firewall/cable modem/wireless router.

The location is a storefront that shares exterior walls with other businesses. Ms. Adorno identified the competing pharmacy reportedly operated by the insured's former employee, which was located three (3) storefronts away and connected to the same building.

This undersigned noted the two (2) desktop computers were utilizing the Windows XP operating system, which is no longer updated or supported by the software manufacture, Microsoft. Network cabling to and from the firewall unit was not labeled and included at least one (1) additional network cable than was required for a connection to the printer, computers and WAP.

This undersigned conducted a review of software applications/programs resident within the insured's desktop computers and did not note any unauthorized application processes. However, a review of user accounts identified a "Superuser" account of which Ms. Adorno reportedly had no knowledge. A general user account utilized by pharmacy personnel and an administrator account utilized by the InterRX support team were also identified by this undersigned.

Ms. Adorno stated that electronic prescriptions would be received by the two (2) desktop computers and automatically printed to the attached printer. A pharmacist would then utilize the printed prescription to fill the medicine order, and then notify the application which received the prescription that such had been filled. This undersigned witnessed this process during our site inspection.

Cause of Loss

The basis of the loss is the reported interception of electronic prescriptions by an unauthorized party. Loss Solutions Group interviewed the software vendor (InterRX) and conducted an inspection of the loss location and network/computer equipment therein. Our analysis indicates there are multiple possibilities by which an unauthorized party may intercept the electronic prescriptions, as reported by the insured and addressed below:

Windows XP Operating System Vulnerabilities

- Microsoft, the manufacturer of the Windows XP Operating System (OS), ended mainstream support for the program on April 14, 2009. The last official security patch was released on May 1, 2014. As the operating system is no longer officially updated, numerous security vulnerabilities and exploits have been documented as a result of this lack of official update/support, including an Industrial Control Systems Cyber Emergency Response Team (ICE-CERT) bulletin released on February 10, 2015 (link: <https://ics-cert.us-cert.gov/alerts/ICS-ALERT-15-041-01>). As such, the two (2) desktop computers utilized by the insured represent a security vulnerability which may be exploited by unauthorized parties utilizing a variety of measures.

Network Cabling/Physical Location

This undersigned noted extensive network cabling throughout the insured's place of business. This cabling was observed to run along the length of interior walls, as well as egress into the ceiling overhead. The typical path for network cabling originates at the internet service provider (ISP) connection panel, continues to a cable modem, and is distributed thereafter to various networked components either directly or via routers/switches.

In this case, network cabling was observed by this undersigned to originate at the ISP's connection panel to a firewall, which was utilized as a cable modem, router, and wireless network broadcast point. Cabling was then routed from the combination firewall device to two (2) network computers, a printer, and a wireless access point.

Additional cables were observed to originate from the firewall but the connection point for such could not be identified by this undersigned as it appeared to egress into the ceiling overhead. The insured was unaware of what the network cabling was connected to or the purpose/function of additional cabling observed by this undersigned throughout the insured's place of business.

As there is no clearly defined topography or understanding of the observed network cabling's function/termination, such represented a security vulnerability by which access to the insured's network may be obtained by unauthorized parties.

We note that, as per the insured's statements and those of Attorney Manfredi, the former employee which they identified as the most likely source of the electronic prescription interception reportedly had unrestricted access to the insured's place of business and, as the individual's pharmacy was in close physical proximity, it is possible that network cabling was installed to the new location. This undersigned's/Loss Solutions Group's observations only support that such is feasible but was not verified during the course of our on-site inspection.

Wireless Network Access

The insured utilizes two (2) wireless networks. One (1) network functions as a "Guest" account, granting free Wi-Fi access to the insured's customers. The second wireless network is utilized by the insured's staff. The insured did not present technical knowledge regarding either wireless networks and, as such, access to the networks represents a potential intrusion method by unauthorized individuals.

Unauthorized User Account

This undersigned noted the presence of a "Superuser" account resident within the insured's desktop computer. Ms. Adorno stated that she was unaware of the Superuser account and noted that only an administrator account and a general employee user account were supposed to be present. The Superuser account was observed to have network access privileges, including the ability to network-share printer and file resources. As such, full networked file and device access by unauthorized parties utilizing this account represents a potential security intrusion method.

Remote Access

The insured utilizes software for remote access to the pharmacy's network. Ms. Adorno stated that she uses such from a home-based computer when she is not able to be at the insured's place of business. There are a number of methods by which this connection could be utilized by unauthorized parties, including direct access using the insured's credentials or indirect access via software/hardware intrusion at the insured's residence.

Cause of Loss Summation

This undersigned observed and identified the above security vulnerabilities during an inspection at the loss location. This undersigned shared these observations with Ms. Adorno and Attorney Manfredi prior to departure from the site inspection. No third-party applications, viruses or malware programs were observed by this undersigned to be resident within the insured's computer systems. The reported unauthorized interception/accessing of electronic prescription data by an outside party was not observed by this undersigned during our site inspection. The unauthorized interception of such was reported by the insured and the insured's legal representative. The most likely source of the reported intrusion and interception of electronic prescriptions is via unauthorized access utilizing any of the security vulnerabilities observed and identified above.

We note that a thorough forensic evaluation of the insured's networking and computer systems would be required to identify the exact method of electronic prescription interception. Loss Solutions Group is unable to determine if unauthorized access was initially established by an individual who was actively employed or if the access occurred by a non-employee. Our assignment to this matter did not include an investigation of computer systems reportedly utilized by the former employee suspected by the insured to be the responsible party and no evidence which identifies the responsible party was observed by this undersigned.

Cause of Loss Conclusion

Loss Solutions Group submits the cause of loss is unknown for this claim. The reported interception of electronic prescription information was not observed by this undersigned. However, as such was reported by the insured and the insured's legal representative, the most likely method which may have occurred is via unauthorized access of the insured's network and/or computer systems via security vulnerabilities identified in this report.

Re: Insured: GARDNERS PHARMACY, INC.
 Claimant: GARDNERS PHARMACY, INC.
 Date of Loss: November 28, 2016
 Policy Number: 12SBAUL3824
 Event Number: CP0017164803
 Claim Number: Y44 B 62264

Dear Manfredi Law Group, PLLC,

We are in receipt of a claim from Gardners Pharmacy, Inc for theft and computer fraud as the result of data interception from an unknown individual/entity. This loss is reported to have occurred to property located at 140 371 Broadway, Brooklyn, NY 11211. We hired Loss Solutions Group (LSG) to assess the loss and to attempt to verify the cause as the insured has alleged the prescriptions are being diverted to another pharmacy a few doors down from the insured location. Through LSG's investigation they have confirmed that there was no malware present on Gardner's Computer system nor was there any proof of an ongoing active hack. In discussion with InterRX it has been determine that Gardner's system has no other point of contact or computer systems linked to their InterRx identification code number. LSG has proposed several different ways in which data could be potentially breach however there was no evidence to support any breach.

As we cannot determine that a theft of data as defined by the policy has occurred due to a covered cause of loss we must respectfully disclaim coverage for this loss. If there is no covered event then business interruption does not trigger under the policy.

Gardners Pharmacy, Inc.'s policy is written under policy number 12 SBA UL3824 with the effective dates of 12/26/2015 to 12/26/2016. Please refer to SPECIAL PROPERTY COVERAGE FORM SS 00 07 07 05 which states in pertinent part:

"B. EXCLUSIONS

2. The following is added to Exclusions B.1:

Computer fraud means any act of stealing property following and directly related to the use of any computer to fraudulently cause a transfer of that property from inside your premises or from a banking institution or similar safe depository, to a person (other than a "messenger") outside those premises or to a place outside those premises.

This Limit of Insurance is in addition to any other Limit of Insurance that may be provided by this policy for this coverage."

Please also refer to COMPUTERS AND MEDIA FORM SS 04 41 04 09 which states in part:

"A. Computer Equipment, Data and Software

1. Coverage

We will pay for direct physical loss of or physical damage, to "computer equipment" and the cost to research, replace or restore physically lost or physically damaged "data" and "software" subject to Limit of Insurance shown in the Declarations for Computers and Media while anywhere within the policy territory, and while in transit, but only if:

- a. Owned by you; or
- b. Owned by others but in your care custody and control regardless of whether you use it for personal or business use."

Unfortunately, as described above, your policy will provide coverage for lost data or software only if it was the result of direct physical loss or physical damage to the computer equipment per the specialist's review we cannot determine that the alleged theft of data actually belonged to our insured at the time of loss as it was somehow diverted before entering our insured's computer system. Since no covered cause of loss can be determined by either theft, virus or computer fraud, coverage will not trigger for a business interruption claim.

In view of the above policy provisions, we regret that no payment can be made for this loss. By this letter and its investigation of this matter, "Sentinel" does not intend to, nor does it waive, alter, invalidate, extend or otherwise offset or prejudice any of its rights under the aforementioned insurance policy, and all rights are specifically reserved. Additionally, "Sentinel" specifically reserves the right to assert additional policy limitations and/or exclusions not previously mentioned which may later become apparent Please be advised that nothing contained within this document nor any act of this company or its representatives is to be construed as a waiver of any known or unknown defense we may have under this policy. Nor does this letter waive or change any provisions or conditions of the policy. Additionally, the foregoing in no way restricts or limits this company from relying upon and asserting other facts and grounds that are, or may become available to it.

Thank you for your cooperation and assistance during the investigation of your claim.

We are required to inform you that under Regulation 64 of the New York State Department of Financial Services, any legal action which you may elect to take against this company regarding this claim must be brought within two years of the date of loss.
